

Your Radical Idea Worksheet

There is a good chance that you have an idea in you that is big, bold, and arguably radical. Over time, you have learned to push your idea to the side, saying that it's unrealistic or undoable. Is it possible that those assumptions aren't true? Perhaps your radical idea is exactly what the world needs. Use this tool to put it to the test and decide whether or not to take action.

What is your radical idea? (Describe it in 30 words or less)	How could you bring your radical idea to the world?	Who would need to be involved?
	Why haven't you taken action yet?	When could you start?
Who would benefit if your radical idea becomes a reality?	What would it take to get you moving?	Based on your answers, is it time to put it into action? Yes (Do it!) No (Kill it!)
